Join us!

This full day Forum will provide valuable information and the unique opportunity to connect with other individuals and families as they move forward into adult life with an Intellectual disability.

- Learn about laws related to decision-making in Ontario, and how they affect adults with an intellectual disability.
- Hear young adults discuss their experiences and feelings about their rights.
- Learn more about fee-for-service community participation and day supports available in Toronto.
- Talk about the issues you are most concerned about with other families and build connections at the Connected Families Café
